

DIY

A decorative hanging ornament, possibly a Christmas or winter-themed decoration. It features two large, pale yellow dahlia flowers as the central focal points. The arrangement is densely packed with various types of leaves, including large green leaves with yellow variegated edges, smaller solid green leaves, and some brown, dried-looking leaves. Interspersed among the foliage are clusters of small, dark purple berries. The entire arrangement is suspended by a metal ring at the top, which is attached to a bundle of twine or dried grass. The background is plain white.
